

AASHNA GUPTA

PROFILE SUMMARY

Detail-oriented professional with analytical skills and a collaborative mindset, committed to solving business problems through data-driven insights.

INTERNSHIP

Finance Intern, Accord Chemical Corporation
Apr – Jun 2026

- Compared landed costs across Self Import, High Seas Sale, and Bond Transfer by analysing how customs duty timing, IGST treatment, and bonded-warehouse costs affected each route, clarifying the cost drivers behind procurement choice
- Evaluated buyer requirements and cash availability against each route's cost profile to identify the suitable, lowest-cost feasible option for orders analysed, supporting the team's procurement decisions
- On an analysed shipment, found High Seas Sale to be ~1.9% cheaper than Self Import and ~2.5% cheaper than Bond Transfer, giving the team a quantified basis for route selection

ACADEMIC PROJECTS

- Assessment of growth trends and profitability: Analyzed Dabur's profit & loss statement, balance sheet, quarterly reports and cash flow statement to evaluate financial performance, leverage and key risk indicators, highlighting improving profitability, strong operating cash generation and a stable financial position
- CredFlow Digital Lending Solution: Analyzed an end-to-end lending workflow covering customer onboarding, KYC verification, credit assessment, loan disbursement and repayment, identified operational risks and exception points to enhance process efficiency and transparency across the lending lifecycle
- Blockchain-Enabled Pharmaceutical Supply Chain: Analyzed the application of blockchain for medicine traceability across manufacturers, distributors, wholesalers and pharmacies; mapped QR-based verification, batch recalls and tamper detection to address medicine authenticity and supply-chain traceability challenges
